

As a traveler, i have a comment that is based on my experience of the last few years: all the radio markets in the nation are the same now. don't let this happen to television also, oops, too late....